

Volunteering

Passion and commitment

About us

Western Sydney MRC is an organisation supporting individuals and communities to be socially connected, empowered and informed. We celebrate diversity and everyone is welcome here.

About our services

There are so many benefits of volunteering, to you, your family, and your community. Volunteering can help you make friends through new networks, connect and give back with other communities, learn new skills, and even change your career path. At Western Sydney MRC we have many programs and services that require a wide variety of skills... perhaps one that is just right for you.

■ CVS

CVS aims to enrich the quality of life of older people who have been identified as being lonely or socially isolated and might benefit from having a regular volunteer to provide friendship and companionship.

■ English Connect

Connect English is a conversational English program that connects volunteers with refugees seeking to develop spoken English skills and build friendships across cultures.

■ Local experience

Many of our volunteers go on to find paid employment. Volunteering at the MRC builds your knowledge and skills in your areas of interest and need.
